CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

- It is completely feasible to enter in the market for this business
- Competitors mainly posting short length videos on social media for promotion
- OVEN KRAFT (OK) group should post 1 or 2 short videos per week consistently on social media for promotion
- Competitor had created an episode series, where they mainly promote their activities and services, they are offering
- Similarly, OK group should follow the parallel way of ideas to promote on social media such as their competitor
- OK group has unique customers(active on promoting OK group social media pages), so that OK group can offer them some more deals in their following visit
- OK group could send alerts(via call, text, e-mail) to their existing customers about their present activities and deals
- Our competitor using same strategy for attracting customer
